Subject: Administrative Draft BDCP Deliverables from ICF on behalf of David Zippin

Hello all,

Please read the following message from David Zippin:

I am pleased to deliver for your review the Administrative Draft Bay-Delta Conservation Plan (BDCP). This deliverable represents a significant milestone in the development of the BDCP. Many components of this deliverable are new: Chapter 3, Adaptive Management and Monitoring; Chapter 5, Effects Analysis; and Chapter 8, Funding, to name a few.

Before you start your review, please read the attached Note to Agency Reviewer from Mark Cowin, DWR Director. This note outlines new deadlines and recommended approaches for your comments over the next two months. This new process is designed to facilitate your participation with DWR and ICF in improving the preliminary proposal next month.

This links below allow FTP download of the complete text and figures for BDCP Chapters 1, 2, and 4 through 10, along with most BDCP Appendices (the climate change and monitoring appendices are still in progress). These materials are being provided to recipients as an advance review draft. They will be posted for public access on February 29. Until that time, they are for the reviewers' use only. A week ago you received Chapter 3, Conservation Strategy, so we have not reposted that chapter.

You have previously had the opportunity to review and comment on Chapter 1, 2, 4, 6, 9, and 10, and we have addressed those comments, as seen in the "track changes" versions of sections of the document. Copies of the responses to comments will also be posted on the FTP site by the end of this week.

We have also addressed many of the comments on the Chapter 5 technical appendices. However, some are still in process. Revised versions of many technical appendices will be released in March and April. See the attached note for details. We are developing a schedule for these releases and will share it with you soon.

We thank you for your continued commitment and dedication to working with us on this project. We look forward to working with you further to improve the preliminary proposal and work towards a public draft BDCP. Please note that all comments are due by March 31.

Please contact me with any questions or requests, unless you have problems with the FTP site or have difficulty opening/reading the documents, in which case you should contact Ryan Patterson.

-David
